STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

This Bill has two primary objects, one, to consolidate the law relating to Pleaders, Mukhtars and Revenue Agents, the other, to amend that law so far as it relates to agreements between certain legal practitioners and their clients.

In Bengal, the North-Western Provinces, the Punjab and Oudh, the law on the subject is contained in three Acts (XX of 1865, XXIX of 1865 and IX of 1866); in the Presidencies of Madras and Bombay it is contained in Acts I of 1846, XX of 1853, Madras Regulation XIV of 1818, and Bombay Regulation II of 1827, chapter VI; in the Panjab, Act IV of 1866 (sections ten, eleven, twelve, forty-four and fifty-one) contains some special provisions as to Pleaders in the Chief Court and their fees; and in British Burma the Recorders' Courts Act XXI of 1868 (sections sixteen, seventeen and eighteen) contains similar provisions. The Central Provinces and all British Burma outside the local limits of the Recorders' jurisdiction appear to be devoid of any law on the subject.

The present Bill consolidates and extends to the whole of British India such of the provisions of Acts XX of 1865 and XXIX of 1865 as appear to be generally applicable to the country.

With regard to agreements for remuneration between clients and their legal advisers, Act XX of 1865, section thirty-nine, permits such agreements to be made, and declares that they shall not be enforced otherwise than by regular suit.

This provision, which has been held to place such agreements on the same footing as an ordinary contract between private persons, has, for obvious reasons, not worked satisfactorily. A flagrant instance of the evil of the present law is furnished by the recent case of Nathoo Lall v. Judgee Pershad, 1 Allahabad Reports 1, and though the High Court there held that it was not the duty of the lower Courts to do so (as they had done), on mere proof of the contract, the enforcement of an exorbitant bargain between a pleader and his client, the legislature should not leave so important a rule to depend on the decision of a single High Court. The Bill repeals the section in question, and replaces it by a set of provisions modelled on the recent English Statute 33 & 34 Vict., Cap. 25 (to amend the law relating to the remuneration of Attorneys and Solicitors), sections four, six, seven, eight, nine, eleven, thirteen and fourteen.

Section thirty-three of the Bill declares that pleaders, &c., may make agreements as to their remuneration, but that the amount agreed on shall not be paid until the agreement has been examined and allowed by an officer of the High Court or of the District Court. The Court is empowered either to reduce the amount or to order the agreement to be cancelled. The agreement (section thirty-four) will exclude further claims in respect of the business therein referred to. Provisions relieving the pleader, &c., from liability for negligence will be void (section thirty-five). No suits are to be brought on such agreements, but on petition of either party the Court may enforce or set it aside (section thirty-six). The Bill then declares void (a) purchases by a pleader of his client's interest in future suits or in unsatisfied decrees, and (b) agreements by which the pleader stipulates for payment only in the event of success. Provision is made (section thirty-eight) for the case of the pleader's death or incapacity, and the client is empowered (section thirty-nine) to change his pleader notwithstanding such agreement.

The other novel provisions of the Bill are only two.

At the recommendation of the Government of Bengal, all Mukhtars are restored to the privilege of appearing, pleading and acting in Criminal Courts, which they formerly enjoyed under Act XX of 1865, and Mukhtars heretofore admitted and enrolled in Lower Bengal as Revenue Agents are empowered (section seven) to appear and act in suits in Munsifs' Courts under Bengal Act VIII of 1869 (to amend the procedure in suits between landlord and tenant).

Penalties are provided (section forty-five) for Advocates, Pleaders and Mukhtars removed or suspended by a High Court who practise after such removal or during such suspension.

Provided that it shall not be competent to the Collector to sell, in the manner aforesaid, any land which shall not have been taken up for embankment purposes under the provisions of this Act.

If the Engineer concur with the Collector, he shall pass orders accordingly; if he differ, the case shall be reported to the Commissioner, whose decision shall be final. When the objection shall have been finally disposed of, or, if no objection be preferred, when a full month shall have elapsed from the date of notice, the Collector shall proceed to levy the amount from the parties liable to pay the same, by any process which is or may for the time being be in force for the recovery of arrears of Government revenue.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

The attention of Government was drawn in 1868 to the injuries which had been sustained in the district of the 24-Pergunnahs from inundation, owing to certain obstructions which had been erected in a drainage channel, and the removal of which the magistrate stated could not be effected until the requisite legal formalities had been complied with; admitting at the same time that the removal of the obstructions was necessary for the public good, and it was considered that the existing law was not sufficiently stringent to meet such cases.

The opinion of qualified local officers was called for as to the points on which the present Embankment Act requires amendment, and in giving effect to those amendments it is deemed expedient to consolidate the existing laws for the acquisition of land, for the construction of embankments, and for their maintenance.

The objects sought to be attained by the modifications proposed in the existing laws are to extend the provisions of the Act so as to include within their operation the drainage of tracts of country which may be intimately connected with embankments; to include under the definition of "embankments" works which, though not embankments, are strictly accessories to embankments and without which it is impossible to secure the stability of the latter; to provide for the removal of encumbrances to drainage, and for the construction of works necessary to the drainage as well as to the protection from inundation of any land; to give greater facility of action in cases where delay may be attended with grave and imminent danger to life and property; to provide compensation for injury or loss to individuals caused by such action; to secure the more effective maintenance of private embankments, and to determine more equitably the mode in which the cost thereof incurred should be recoverable from the parties liable to pay the same, or from those benefited by such works; and lastly, to secure by more stringent penalties, embankments, and drainage works from wilful injury.

from villages where offence
does not discovered.*

To render the Act more complete, the provisions of the existing laws for the acquisition of land required for works of the description specified in the Act have been incorporated therewith.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

DURING certain religious festivals at the town of Pooree and other places in Orissa, the lodging-houses to which pilgrims resort are much over-crowded, and are in many respects wholly unsuited for human habitation. The sanitary arrangements urgently required for preserving the health of the large number of pilgrims are altogether wanting, and much disease and mortality has arisen in consequence, and has been spread throughout the towns and districts through which the pilgrims pass on their return. It is therefore proposed to pass an Act for the regulation of the lodging-houses, and for raising by fees for licenses on the owners of such houses a sum which shall be taken as a contribution to the conservancy fund of the town of Pooree. The fund it is also intended to increase by other measures unconnected with the Bill, and it is hoped that by these means such sanitary improvements may be undertaken at the towns in which the shrines are situated, and on the roads leading to these towns, as shall tend materially to check the sickness and disease so fatal to the pilgrims.

PENSIONS AND GRATUITIES.

No. 429.—RESOLUTION.—The Governor General in Council observes that the admission into the service of Government of other than young men tends to throw upon the State an undue liability in respect of pensionary allowances.

His Excellency in Council is accordingly pleased to declare that, as a general rule, no person should be admitted into the Uncovenanted Service of Government after he has attained the age of 25 years. But if, for special reasons, any one is after this date admitted at a later age, then, in the event of his being required to retire under the operation of any rule for the removal of Officers from the service as superannuated on their attaining a particular age, the pension to which he would, but for this rule be entitled, shall be reduced in the proportion which the number of years of pensionable service he has completed bears to 30 years, the full period required for a good service pension.

For instance, if an Officer so retiring has completed 20 years' service, then his pension will be one-third of his average pay multiplied by  $\frac{3}{5}$ ; if he has completed 26 years, then it will be half his average pay multiplied by  $\frac{3}{5}$ .

Ordered, that the above Resolution be published in the Gazette of India.

MINT AND CURRENCY.

2. The Agencies will in every case be placed at the Government Treasury, and will be under the superintendence of the Treasury Officer.
